ANNAS. Seeing that their Master was not disposed to protect Himself the disciples fled (Matthew, xxvi.56), and the soldiers bound Jesus and led Him away to the city (verse 12). He was first brought before Annas, the former high priest (verse 13). The reason for this act can only be con-jectured. It has been thought that the pal-ace was near to the place where Jesus was captured, and that it was desirable to disiss the soldiery as soon as possible. It is possible, however, that the political fluence of Annas and his advice were ROYAL BAKING POWDER improvement in the conduct of passenger business.

"We do not want to hear again of all the Chicago-St. Paul lines being fined by the chairman of the Western Passenger Association for carrying passengers at less than tariff rates," a member of the commission is quoted as saying to the president of one of the Chicago-St. Paul lines, "We have no interest in the Chicago-St. Paul roads that we have not in all others, but it seems that more or less secret rate cutting is persistently indulged in by the passenger officials of the raffroads between the twin cities and Chicago. We have reached the conclusion that in future they must strictly abide by the interstate commerce law or suffer the consequences for wrong doing."

The passenger agents of the Chicago-St. Paul roads met to-day at the headquarters of the Western Passenger Association, and a general desire to stop fighting was manifested.

"I think we will succeed in reorganizing our passenger association next Wednesday, and enter a new era of peace and prosperity," declared one of the general passenger agents after the meeting. "We are all tired of the warfare that has been going on. It has cost us lots of money, and practically nothing has been gained by any line. We have learned that a passenger association firmly established on the right foundation is of inestimable value to all lines. Probably some of the trans-Missouri lines will not sign the agreement next Wednesday, but all the lines east of the Missouri river will."

A Mother's Responsibility

A great responsibility rests upon mothers at the time their daughters are budding into womanhood. If your daughter is pale, complains of weakness, is "tired out" upon slight exertion; if she is troubled with headache or backache, pain in the side; if her temper is fitful and her appetite poor, she is in a condition of extreme peril, a fit subject for that most dreaded of all diseases—consumption. If you notice any of these

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

They will assist your daughter to develop properly and regularly; they will enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves, and all danger of consumption and premature death will be averted.

Mrs. John Tansey, of 130 Baker Street, Detroit, Mich., says:

Mrs. John Tansey, of 130 Baker Street, Detroit, Mich., says:
"We had a serious time with my daughter. She did not have any serious illness but seemed to gradually waste away. Our doctor called the discuss by an odd name which as I afterward learned, meant lack of blood.

"We finally found a medicine that helped her. After three months treatment her health was so greatly improved you would not have recognized her. She gained in flesh rapidly and soon was in perfect health. The medicine used was Dr. Williams' Pink Pilis for Pale People. I have always kept these pills in the house since and have told many mothers about them. They have effected some wonderful cures."

—From the Evening News, Detroit, Mich.
